

THE LAND-TEMPEST

OR, A PAPER-PELLET;

Or, much in a Mouthfull; or, a long Answer
To a short Question; Containing an Abstract, Epitome, or Effects of the woes of these Wars.

By (W. P.) a plunder'd Preacher in the County of GLOUCESTER.
Experta loquor.

Difficile est invocare, facile est addere inventis.

—Brevis esse laboro, Obscurus fio. — } Some words are hard in this to understand, Obscurus fio, Cur? quia, tam brevis esse laboro. } Because I haste with th' wars I have in hand.

No heart can think upon these things worthily; (for) it is a Tempest, which man can see, Eccelus. 16, 20, 21.

Come, and let us cast lots, that wee may know, for whose sake this evill is com upon us, Jon. 1. 7.

Question. What is War? } } Answer. It is a Tempest.

BY musing on Jonah's Tempest on the sea, we may take occasion to meditate on our Tempest on the land. Yet great difference between that and our Tempest.

That was one-sinner-following
one ship-indangering,
a Little-wares-losing,
a few Mariners affrighting Tem-habitants whatsoever.

That Tempest turned the ruler into the belly of the Whale.

This will tumble the causers without their converting, into the bottome of hell.

That is marvellous in our ears, this in our eyes.

That was great, grievous, horrid, hideous.

But this Tempest, one thousand six hundred forty & three, is a far greater Tempest, then ever yet we did see.

It is An *All-Acts & statutes-

Words are but wind.

But this is such a tempestuous wind that hath overturned many trees, turrets, towers, walls, houses, men and beasts; and yet it rageth still.

No man knowing when the calme will be.

The Marriners have rowed hard to bring the Ship to land, but it cannot be: for the Sea worketh, and is tempestuous against them. Jon.

The greatest part of the wares in the Ship are cast into the Sea, to lighten the Ship; but this tempest is so mighty still, that the ship is like to be broken. Vers.

VVee know, that for some Jonah's sake, this tempest is still upon us; O Lord think on us, that we perish not. Vers.

O that the many Jonah's of Ignorance, Atheisme, profaneness, Popery, Faction, Neutrality, Ambodexterisme, were commanded to be cast over-board, that the calm might be as great as is yet the storm.

That all men, in signe of thankfulness, might learn to know, feare, love, and serve that Man-God, whom winds and waves, men and devils, heaven and earth do obey. Mat. 8.
